CSR Training - Venue & Online

The content of the CSR-A training courses both online and face to face are identical. However the more involving and intuitive way this content can be presented in a classroom situation makes it a more memorable and valuable learning experience. This online training course helps organisations understand how they can create a CSR policy that supports environmental, workplace, community and philanthropic issues and how they can work in ways that deliver positive outcomes.

The training course is for those who wish to develop their organisation's CSR policy including CEOs/MDs, executive teams, senior leadership, HR managers and CSR professionals. The course is also suitable for anyone who wants to gain a better understanding of the importance of CSR in the workplace.

Throughout the training, learners will develop an awareness of why CSR adds clear benefits to their organisation and how these can be incorporated into day-to-day business practice. The course features a range of real-life examples of organisations with successful CSR policies, which helps learners to understand why taking care of people, the environment and the economy are vital for the long-term growth of every organisation. Courses ultimately provide the building blocks for learners to create CSR policy for the organisations they work for, understand drivers, outcomes and how to measure results and impacts for stakeholders, the communities they are part of and society.

For organisations who wish to go on and achieve CSR Accreditation the course is an invaluable companion piece for creating a relevant and comprehensive application document.

The CSR-A Course is endorsed by IAM and Buckinghamshire New University

The Institute of Administrative Management (IAM) is one of the oldest management institutes in the UK, having inspired professional business managers and administrators since 1915. Focus is on developing professional administrators, administrative managers and managers. This is done through membership services and qualification programmes to help individuals develop skills, build successful careers and fulfil their potential.

Buckinghamshire New University (BNU) The University was "highly impressed" by the company's processes and content, and made recommendations including helping schools to report on their corporate social responsibility which CSR-A has welcomed and implemented.

Desired Learning Outcomes Include;

- Why CSR is important to all stakeholders.
- Learn about the benefits of CSR.
- Explore laws, guidance and regulations.
- Develop an understanding of what makes a good CSR strategy.
- Develop stakeholder & internal engagement.
- The importance of understanding and measuring impact.

Spotlight Stakeholder engagement, develop a CSR strategy, improve performance, encourage employee commitment and internal engagement, integrate reward systems and reporting.

Most activity related to CSR should involve some form of internal and external communication including impact reporting, PR and social media. We show how communication of CSR outcomes delivers positive narrative through all marketing channels.

CSR - Consultation & Report

The process of delivering a CSR policy begins with an assessment of every aspect of your business and its socially responsible activity, familiarising you with the Four Pillars of CSR. We investigate and define what you have already achieved in relation to current initiatives, carry out a gap analysis to identify areas that need addressing and after studying your organisation's impacts, we set targets for improving them against the Four Pillars of CSR.

Reporting on non-financial aspects of business performance is an increasingly common measure of an organisation's socially responsible efforts. Many governments are applying rules in relation to what has to be reported, by whom, and as part of which official reporting procedure. Currently the UK government asks businesses to complete these reports voluntarily, especially SMEs. Tendering for government and local authority projects requires a comprehensive CSR audit and report for successful application. As positive business reputation becomes increasingly vital, these requirements are bleeding into private sector procedures.

In order to further encourage reporting of CSR, governments are providing support and promotional activities to enhance the effectiveness of that reporting and to raise general awareness of CSR. Some are starting to take steps to do this by introducing pilot projects to test the effectiveness of introducing non-financial reporting which follows international guidelines such as GRI and ISO 26000.

Some governments are introducing tools to enable businesses to complete CSR reporting more effectively or support businesses in the completion of GRI-compliant reports. Some have taken additional steps to adopt international guidelines with some detail tailoring for domestic situations. Other governments promote the benefits of reporting by proving incentives such as marketing and awareness raising.

It is increasingly clear that CSR auditing and benchmarking has become a vital part of company reporting and may very well, in the near future become a legal requirement in the UK.

We provide a results driven, CSR programme to define and implement your CSR Policy by employing a structured approach that delivers this required information:

- Consultation Benchmarking - involves reviewing CSR initiatives, as well as measuring and evaluating.
- Audit - to explore what you are already doing and what impact that has.
- Analyse & Evaluate - to identify CSR scope and identify processes.
- Report and Recommend - Provide a detailed list of recommendations, timings and approx costs for continual improvement.

Following your CSR programme we will

- Develop a Plan - scope out a CSR blueprint for the business and drivers for a 12 month period.
- Implement - provide hands on expertise in delivering on all aspects of a CSR policy over 12 months. Write impact reports.
- Monitor & Support - to provide ongoing analysis and project management of program roll-out.
- Provide Tools & Insights - on how an organisation can achieve this internally.
- Increase Visibility - Show how we can measure increased visibility of a brand through marketing and social media channels.
- Achieve CSR Accreditation.
- Impact Report - Measuring and evaluating impact.

Large/Corporate (1000 to 2000 employees)	£12,000.00+

Social Impact Reporting

CSR impact reports are similar to (and often run alongside) an annual report. They show all your audiences and stakeholders the beneficial outcomes and future plans that your business is making through environmental, workplace, community and philanthropic commitments. These include, not just the intrinsic benefits social responsibility has to the planet and to society but also the vital return on social investment (ROSI). ROSI in turn, includes operational and financial savings, employee engagement and bottom line benefits that are vital for tendering, financial investment, organisational sustainability and ultimately long term business success.

Social impact reporting is an invaluable marketing and communications tool for evidencing and showcasing positive socially responsible activity. They visually demonstrate that by putting values at the heart of your organisation you will deliver a sustainable profit.

Impact report production is an independent service which can draw from a CSR-Accreditation application (organisations that are Accredited can use their applications as a comprehensive starting point for an impact report). Alternatively an impact report can be unrelated to an Accreditation for those organisations that have effective CSR policy in place.

An impact report is an essential tool for bench-marking and measuring your social responsibility activity and will include advisories for future development. Impact reporting shows that through effective CSR policy your organisation has made a significant 'Return On Social Investment' (ROSI) with positive outcome for society, the environment and vitally, your companies bottom line.

Comprehensive impact reporting is an essential part of impact measurement, allowing you and others to learn from your activity. It also promotes a culture of engagement, accountability and transparency.

Many organisations struggle with what information to include in these reports and what to leave out. How do you best present your impact data? CSR-A provides an experienced, structured and creative approach for assessing and identifying material issues, selecting reporting frame-works (such as Accreditation) and establishing priorities. An impact report will smartly communicate your policies, your progress and your future plans and ambitions.

An impact report delivers required information:

- Consultation bench-marking – reviewing socially responsible initiatives, measuring and evaluating.
- Measure – to explore what you are already doing and what impact this activity has had.
- Analyse and evaluate – to identify potential social responsibility activity scope and processes.
- Report and recommend – write up, illustrate and publish outcomes and conclusions.

CSR-A also provides practical advice about the questions an impact report should answer. How do you make the most of existing data and how do you communicate your impacts to your various audiences?

Reporting your impact will help you to:

- Review your impact against your vision and goals.
- Create a learning organisation where people focus on results and adapt and continually improve.
- Motivate staff and all stakeholders through celebrating achievements.
- Build trust, engagement and credibility with all of your organisations audiences.
- Share lessons with other organisations.

CSR Accreditation

It is now more important than ever to show that we are doing everything we can to improve the world we live in for future generations, not only by reducing the negative impact we have on the environment, but by building a better, cohesive society. It's amazing what we are already doing that we don't talk about. CSR-Accreditation provides the perfect opportunity to tell your positive story.

CSR Accreditation is the perfect way to collate what you are already doing in regard to social responsibility. The application process helps you easily report on your organisations sustainable and community engagement and provides a simple template where you can record activity against the Four Pillars of environment, workplace, community and philanthropy. Each Pillar is designed to help you measure, record and impact report on areas such as energy performance, recycling, staff engagement, health and well-being, community engagement and supporting local and national charities.

Successful Accreditation applications become CSR-A members and receive our Accreditation pack. The CSR Accreditation Mark should be displayed on your website, in your reception and throughout your literature, proudly showing that your organisation has been independently recognised for its CSR endeavours. Members are encouraged to take full advantage of our benefits package which includes access to thought leadership and insight pieces and consultation for ongoing activity and re-accreditation at the end of a three year cycle, a tree planted for every accreditation by Green Earth Appeal and 5% of the application fee going to charity.

Accredited members benefits include:

- Three years CSR Accreditation
- A CSR Accreditation logo pack and guidelines
- An Accreditation certificate
- An Annual CSR Health Check – One hour free consultation meeting
- CSR Accreditation consultation call 6 months before you accreditation renewal
- Automatic entry to the International CSR Excellence Awards
- Free social media marketing and press release
- Feature in our CSR-Accredited members directory

CSR Accreditation for schools - community social responsibility

CSR-Accreditation enables easy reporting on a schools sustainable and community engagement. The Accreditation application process provides a simple template where you can record a school's activity against the CSR Four Pillars. Each of the Four Pillars is designed to help you audit and impact report on areas such as buildings and grounds, inclusion and participation, community engagement and supporting local and national charities. This information will form an invaluable policy which you can use to show all your audiences that you are a caring and responsible school.

It is also a powerful way to demonstrate to Ofsted that you are working towards becoming a more sustainable school in-line with Government expectations. It will help a school achieve a higher priority, through funding for central and local initiatives including staff training and development. It can also be used to introduce the importance of social responsibility into the curriculum.

The CSR-A Mark of Excellence

All successful applications will receive a Gold, Silver or Bronze Accreditation pack. Any applicants that are unsuccessful will receive a gap analysis report on their application and a chance to re-apply within three months.

The scrutiny panel was highly impressed with CSR-A's visionary approach and the way that they are working to integrate and embed CSR into all levels of education, and for their commitment particularly to support small to medium enterprises. As a higher education provider, we look forward to working with them to encourage the sector to embed CSR into the curriculum so that future generations are inspired to make a difference and positive contribution in their local communities and the wider world.
